Nobody gives a shit about the military. Germany isn't buying USD because US is a legitimate military threat to them. Germany is buying USD because it's considered to be the worlds reserve currency, the safe haven. As soon as the world decides that it's not, USD rushes back to US and then it's all over. But the world needs to park their wealth SOMEWHERE and so far nothing better than USD and US treasuries is available.

If the biggest military in the world (US) has thousands of bases over the world, by far more than anybody the next 10 nations dont even come close, and probably has seceret intelligence on every nation on earth, and has been the richest nation on earth for almost 200 years, then tell me Ivan, that people wont do what they say when push comes to shove

All trump had to do was threaten to leave NATO and all the allies started paying more, i dont think you understand the dynamic PPP money is running out. Lots more businesses will be closing in August.

>McDonalds announced 200 stores closing >Dunkin announced 450 stores closing
That type of thing will accelerate. Lots of small businesses will be going under in Q3. Bankruptcies will move up the chain from smaller to larger businesses. Fed money printer will protect the big boys until it suddenly doesn't. Unemployment claims are up again this week. They'll keep going up higher through August at least. Evictions and foreclosures will spike in August too. Savings rate has burned down fast since it hit a peak in March. Consoomers will be tapped out by fall. New year should be about the worst of it. By February Congress should actually pass a bunch of shit to deal with it. But we're talking New Deal level insanity. That's my prediction anyhow. The 1930s is the only roadmap we have for anything like this.

Given the sheer incompetence, one wonders if this could be described with the lawyer-speak phrase of "malice aforethought" — the elite hate the middle-class and have been actively moving against them for at least 20 years.

Learn to code!

I have bachelors in journalism and worked for small time publishing companies, when I got laid off I started coding.

While it may not be what I wanted, but I feel its the best choice to put food on the table.

I feel that I can do this.

Currently I am learning html.

Learn to code guys.

The 1930s is NOT the roadmap for getting out of a depression. Massive social spending and the dramatic reduction of lending kept us in a depression for 12 fucking years. I can tell you went to a public school and learned "socialist history".
Slashing taxes and regulations would have pulled the US out of the depression in no time. There wouldn't even be a Great Depression to talk about, merely a recession of 1929-1930.

Like it or not, deregulation, very low taxes and easy access to capital fixes all your problems nationally.

GloboCap Über Alles

So, how are you enjoying the “New Normal” so far? Is it paranoid and totalitarian enough for you? If not … well, hold on, because it’s just getting started. There is plenty more totalitarianism and paranoia still to come.

I know, it feels like forever already, but, in fact, it has only been a few months since GloboCap started rolling out the new official narrative. We’re still in the early stages of it. The phase we’re in now is kind of like where we were back in February of 2002, a few months after the 9/11 attacks, when everyone was still in shock, the Patriot Act was just a few months old, and the Department of Homeland Security hadn’t even been created yet.

What's your argument in this case? We're talking about free market economics, not social libertarianism. What should the government have done to end the Depression?

"The Fed was largely responsible for converting what might have been a garden-variety recession, although perhaps a fairly severe one, into a major catastrophe. Instead of using its powers to offset the depression, it presided over a decline in the quantity of money by one-third from 1929 to 1933 ... Far from the depression being a failure of the free-enterprise system, it was a tragic failure of government". - Milton Friedman

"Let me end my talk by abusing slightly my status as an official representative of the Federal Reserve. I would like to say to Milton and Anna: Regarding the Great Depression. You're right, we did it. We're very sorry. But thanks to you, we won't do it again". - Ben Bernanke, former Federal Reserve chairman for two terms, this quote is his last line in his speech found here: https://www.federalreserve.gov/boarddocs/Speeches/2002/20021108/default.htm

Its weird. Essentially in 2008 we learned investment views America as the safest place. So when shit hits the fan world wide people hide their money in America. This essentially keeps the dollar afloat. So on one had its long been over printed. On the other had its still being held up by subjectivity. But value is subjective so its not like its illegitimate or something. So essentially who the fuck knows but once the boat starts taking on water its going to be bad and probably unstoppable.

I agree. Deregulation of key sectors and lower payroll, property, sales, and other superfluous taxes will help stimulate capital and entrepreneurship/business class ideas. But no one wants to be a business owner or they are so disheartened by the current world, they become nihilistic pieces of trash, which the government fucking loves.

We haven't socialized them per se. It's true that the Big Five don't pay their fair share, but that's because of Congress, not the president. Congress controls taxation and the treasury. We have just allowed lawyers and politicians to sleep in the bed as the big corporations. They are one in the same. It all stems from congressional leadership and the fact that the United States has been electing crooks of insurmountable criminality to the highest positions of power in the land. They need to be kicked out or purged.

Never. The USD doesn’t work like shit hole land dollars. We get the world to buy trillions of dollars worth of our debt so they can use our currency as a medium of global exchange.
The Euro is a joke. Yen is ok but Japan is not big enough or powerful enough to sustain the global economy. Chink monopoly money is trash.
The only place for the world to park their money is USD. That’s why every time there’s huge global instability the demand for dollars rises.
If the chinks weren't deceitful insectoid psychopaths maybe there would be some threat of a currency replacing the dollar but that’s not the world we live in.
That said you don’t want to be holding cash. Invest in US equity markets because that’s where the wealth is transferring to.

Mobs shouldn't be directing their anger at mom and pop and random prole landlords. That's what jew bankers want. BlackRock, Blackstone, Goldman, etc.--the big players in REITs and institutional landlording--are the biggest jew thieves of all. COVID-19 and the lockdowns are a massive jew theft of trillions, including all the foreclosures the jews are about to do. When the Antifags/BLM faggots marched on the Hamptons, that was the closest anybody's come in the United States to going after the real culprits. Not some random boomer who worked at Megacorp his whole life and saved up enough to rent out a couple houses. Yes, those boomers are annoying as fuck, but they aren't the actual problem. It's not dems. It's the jew financier/politician alliance (politicians from both sides) that runs this country that's torching it. They're making off with trillions from the fed plus all the foreclosures and property seizures they're going to do, AND they get rid of Blumpf, since he's problematic for their jew open borders global capitalism agenda. Get past the red/blue paradigm. The US is run by jew financiers who pay Congress (on both sides) and state legislators (on both sides). Jew financiers are responsible for all of this.

Which drug users do you think are the most and least intelligent? My gut tells me that alcoholics have the smartest people, (think Russian authors) but certainly not in an average sense. Perhaps cocaine users have the highest average intelligence. I would guess marijuana users have one of the lower intelligence levels overall, and that's coming from a habitual smoker. Then the opioid crisis comes to mind - can you even exercise intelligence when doped to that level? I know heroin has produced some great music, but creativity =/= intelligence.. or is it?

Record sales doesn't mean there isn't supply chain issues and let me tell you, there are some major supply chain issues which is putting me on edge. Because one fuckup from a vendor is taking my record sales to record losses.

meanwhile, the oil is still running out lmao in 2016 exxonmobile corp failed to discover enough oil to replace 100% of its production for the first time in 22 years..
oil will be gone, meaning NONE by the 2070s
the diminishing returns will begin by 2040-2045 at the latest, more likely by 2030s, unless we reverse the trend of 100m+ barrels of oil produced per day (not happening with 2 billion chinks and 8 billion african niggers driving cars)

for the last several years only enough oil was discovered globally to meet demands for approximately 150-200 days out of the year the rest of the oil is form past discoveries
..and there is less and less places to go every year to find any oil. the "big" finds were all tapped 40 years ago. the remaining oil is going to be very expensive to extract with a low EIoER

Euro ranked as the second-most used reserve currency, with $2.19trn worth assets
It’s not even close. Not to mention the fact that the EU doesn’t even have a military and has basically no ability to project force worldwide.
Global trade is all about protecting your firms from being pillaged by third worlders as you plunder their resources and human capital. China is just now starting to flex muscles in Southeast Asia and Africa but they are still way behind the US. They waste trillions of flashy infrastructure projects that provide no value just to look stronger economically on paper. They are a paper tiger at the moment and are probably 30 years from beginning to become a threat to American global hegemony(assuming they don’t experience a coup before they get to that point). And as much as smarmy European politicians like to poke fun at the US they aren’t stupid enough to trust China. All of China’s neighbors hate them for good reason. They’re already escalating in border disputes with India.
Anyone who thinks the US won’t come out of this Covid situation in an even stronger position is brainwashed by western media FUD. If Obama was president and everything was done exactly the same you’d have front page articles every day about how killing off the boomers with Covid is actually good for the economy(true) and how closing down small non competitive firms and having more centralized big corporations running everything makes america more powerful(also true). This virus is like a forest fire burning up all the old and decaying underbrush and dying industries to make room for new growth.

what is gdp bros? A free short lesson incoming. It is an addition of a few things to get how much "money" a country produces. A rough measure of productivity, de facto.

So if people are NOT working or working LESS, GDP goes down proportionally.
Normally, if GDP grows it means people are MORE PRODUCTIVE because of better efficiency, education, etc. However, right now people have not gotten less productive or lazier or whatever. People are just not working. It isn't that they suffered a drug addiction epidemic, or died en masse, or got a cultural change that made them care less. These things would legitimately lower gdp permanently.

Benefits, btw, basically subtract from the GDP (indirectly). That exacerbates the problem.

In synthesis, growing 5% usually means the country became 5% more productive, which is nuts on a country on the edge of tech and education. But, if people go back to work, your country WILL stabilize.
That's it. Don't fall for "the end is nigh!" gimmicks.
PS: this is extremely digested to try to keep it simple. The definition of productivity varies by ideology, for instance.

They will start trading with China directly soon.
At this point though, it may not matter as they seem to have ran out of oil.

Fascist, like racist, is a term so often misused that it now means nothing more than "did something I didn't like".

You do realize that GDP is an indicator of what HAS happened, not what IS happening, right? Isn't /pol/ always talking about how the Jew controls the media and the banking system? What do Jews love more than anything? MONEY. So what they do is hype up fear by talking about 'muh -32.9% GDP' so all the retail fag investors sell out of their stock and they can buy it up cheap...knowing that the GDP numbers were actually yesterday's news.

It doesn't matter what the fact are.
Only thing that matters is perception.

I'm pretty sure that angle started AFTER the proto-socjus faggots were introduced to kill the movement. iirc originally OWS demands were to tax the shit out of the rich among other things and a lot honestly just wanted them dead petroleum is essentially the only way for agriculture to keep going now nigger it dosent just enable ships and cars and planes to exist.

>thinking we are going to give every retarded nigger his own nuclear car so every time there is a fender bender we get a mini nuclear disaster >thinking enough batteries can be produced with the remaining lithium on earth so many fucking fertilizers and chemicals come from oil the make it so fields produce enough food each year without having to rotate crops or simply let fields sit empty.. no oil means civilization goes back to population levels before oil.

What makes this even crazier is that these people think voting in Biden and the Democrats will help rebuild America's jobs and growth against Mr Jobs himself.
